

I'm writing in reference to my K-LOVE station here in Oklahoma City. I would hate to see K-LOVE displaced by an LPFM broadcaster providing other programming. The world is so violent and there isn't enough wholesome radio and TV for kids and the entire family these days. K-LOVE is the best radio program out there these days. I am constantly inspired everytime I turn it on. It really lifts you up and it's so encouraging. I never have to worry about it being on when my son is in the truck..I don't have to think twice about it because I know anything said is ok for him to hear. If we take away all the good that we have....what will happen to the world...our children? There are very few Christian or even good radio stations or tv channels...I treasure them. I'm glad we at least have them even though it's not in great number. I'd have to say that if we lost K-LOVE here in Oklahoma City...I'd more than likely stop listening to radio all together. I pray this will not happen and if there is anything else I can do to help keep it on the air...I will. God Bless. Lisa Johnson, Oklahoma City.
